1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance and that it has not been completely solved. The author then presents a new method for solving the problem.
This method is based on the use of the Fourier transform. It is shown that this method is very effective and that it can be applied to a wide range of problems. The author then gives some examples of the application of this method to specific problems. It is shown that the method is very accurate and that it can be used to solve problems that have not been solved before. The author then concludes the paper by stating that the method is very useful and that it can be applied to a wide range of problems. He also states that he is working on a new method for solving the problem and that he hopes to publish it soon.
